Anne G. Hill
Administrative Assistant

Anne G. Hill

Dedication

THERE ARE PEOPLE IN THIS LIFE WHO, BECAUSE THEY POSSESS THE RARE GOD-GIVEN SPIRIT OF UNSELFISHNESS, WILL SACRIFICE THEIR OWN PLEASURE AND HAPPINESS THAT THEY MAY THE BETTER SERVE THOSE ABOUT THEM. AND GREATEST OF THESE ARE THE INDIVIDUALS WHO UNDERTAKE THE RESPONSIBILITY OF GUIDING THE LIVES OF YOUTH.

TO THESE LEADERS WHO GIVE THEIR TIME AND EFFORT ENDLESSLY TOWARDS THE DEVELOPMENT OF CHARACTER DURING THE MORE FORMATIVE STAGES WE OWE MUCH OF OUR SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS IN LATER LIFE. THEY SHOW US THE PATH. THE LEAST WE CAN DO IS TO WALK STRAIGHT UPON IT.

THE CLASS OF '39 HAS HAD THE PRIVILEGE OF SUCH GUIDANCE. IN APPRECIATION OF HER CONSTANT FRIENDSHIP, HER UNTIRING EFFORTS, AND THE INVALUABLE ASSISTANCE GIVEN US AND OTHERS WHO HAVE COME BEFORE US, WE RESPECTFULLY DEDICATE THIS BOOK TO

Miss Anne G. Hill,

WHO, AT THE CONCLUSION OF SCHOOL IN JUNE, COMPLETES A PERIOD OF FIFTY YEARS' SERVICE IN THE EVERETT SCHOOLS.

And we wish lots of luck to a really "swell Guy."

ALICE W. ALDEN
177 Shute Street
GENERAL

Senior Representative; Spanish Club, '39; Homeroom President, '39; Senior Prom Committee; Senior Chorus.

Alice is going to create the fashions. Here is one g'rl who will have designs on someone.

ANNIE J. ABBENE
52 School Street
COMMERCIAL

Christmas Basket Committee, '38, '39; Italian Club, '39.

Anne confesses that she's in a fog,
To be a "Number, please" asker or a stenog?

THOMAS ALLSTON
147 Union Street
MECHANIC ARTS

Band, '36, '37; Orchestra, '36, '37; Track, '36, '37.

From what you've written
You're in a stir
And it sounds as if you're out
To be a minister.

MARY L. ACCARDI
95 Woodlawn Street
COMMERCIAL

Italian Club, '39.

Mary wants to do office work in a large concern. She would be an asset to any office.

LOIS E. ALPERT
32 College Street
COLLEDGE

Lois's ambition
She will proudly confess.
It's merely and simply
To be a success.

ERNEST AHLQUIST
96 Vernon Street
GENERAL

Ernie wants to be a dealer in Arabian horseflesh. We think he's only kidding. He should be "Earnest".

ROBERT R. ALWELL
208 Vine Street
COMMERCIAL

Science Service Club, '38, '39.

With Robert's sense of humor, he would make a better comedian than a C. P. A.

IRENE R. ANDERSON
13 Neilson Avenue
COMMERCIAL

Irene has an idea she'd like to sing,
And then design fine fashions.
But if the right boss she could find
She'd make a secretary dashing.

HELEN A. ANZALONE

Even though the job is hard,
Soon Harry will be working
In the U. S. National Guard.

MARION L. BARTLETT
112 Glendale Street
COMMERCIAL

Girls' Glee Club, '37, '38, '39; Usher Class Day, '38; Usher Senior Class Play, '38.

A secretary to a man
With a very handsome son.
If Marion gets a start like that,
Her working days are done.

ANGELINA M. BARTOLO
58 Cottage Street
COMMERCIAL

Italian Club, '39.

Another secretary blossoms forth
Among so many more
And yet I'm sure that she will be
The best they have in store.

WILLIAM F. BEALE

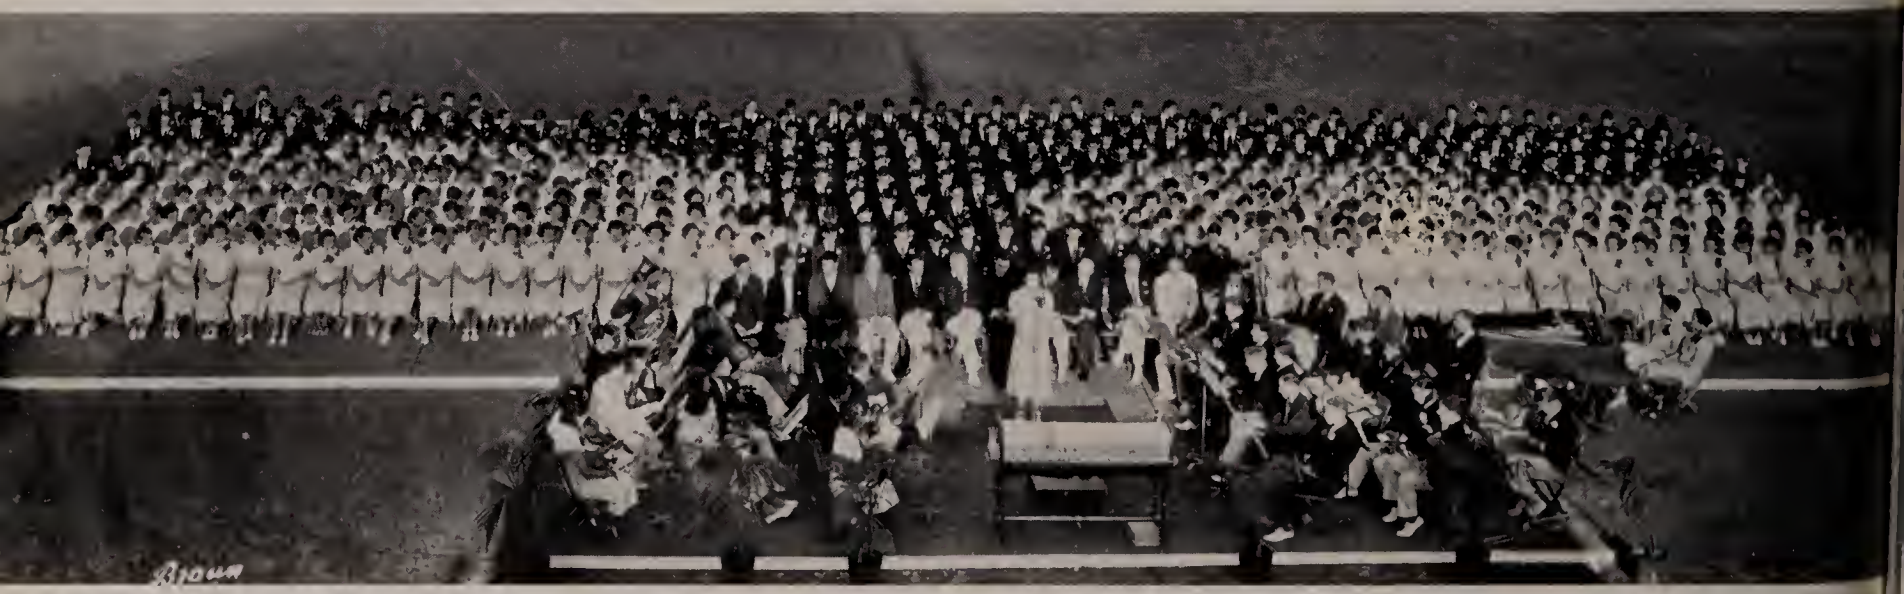
SENIORS ALL, 507 STRONG. NOW WE LOOK FORWARD TO JUNE 13, WHEN WE WILL BE ON THIS PLATFORM TO RECEIVE OUR DIPLOMAS



History of The Senior Class

Freshman Year

In the year 1935 our able leader was John McCahill, who headed our student body. As assistants, John had LeRoy LeBert, secretary of the P. C. G. A., and the presidents of the home rooms to help him in his work.

At various intervals during the year, the student government sponsored dances, which were a source of pleasure to us as freshmen. The chief event of the year, Parlin Day, came in June. Many of the classmates had been working for a Parlin "P" and the following were awarded letters on Parlin Day: Daisy Thompson, Elizabeth Thomas, John Giarattana, Robert Kalin, Carl Martinson, Maria DeMeo, Ruth Johnson, Ernest Spear, Barbara Flaherty, Helen Backman, Lois Alpert, Webster Boudreau, Gertrude Moriarty, Gilbert Walker, Mildred Cohen, Bernice Rood, Irene MacMillan, Sarah Oshry, Suzanne MacGillivray, Ruth Cunningham, Eleanor Babikian, Margaret Rowell, Mary Gallagher, Edward Zakarian, Jean Barnard, and Margaret Johnson.

Sophomore Year

In our first year in Everett Senior High School, we started the year by electing the following class officers: Robert Barry, president; Warren Light, vice-president; Barbara Flaherty, secretary; Marjorie Gould, treasurer; and Gilbert Walker and Everett Thistle as Sophomore members of the School Council.

Two Sophomores who earned letters in football were Alfred DelVisco and Joseph Puglielli.

We contributed as girl songsters to the Glee Club: Jean Brander, Irma Potts, Lillian Carter, Vivian Hamilton, Ann Murdock, Marguerite Shillady, Elvia LeCain, Mildred Sullivan, and Beverly Libby.

Members of the Lyceum were Robert Barry, George Kelley, John McCahill, Roland Bowling, and William Broderick.

Joseph Mascianica, Gilbert Walker, Joseph Puglielli, and Robert Greenquist were on the track team.

Laura MacGillivray and Robert Barry participated in the Prize Speaking Contest.

Mae Sergi represented us in the Spanish Club.

On the Library Staff were Eleanor Babikian, Barbara Flaherty, and Mary Cantalupi.

Our class responded nobly to the stimulus of competition, and we found many of our fellow members in places of responsibility.

Junior Year

Becoming members of the very important Junior Class, we chose as our leaders: Robert Barry, president; Joseph Mascianica, vice-president; Eleanor Babikian, secretary; Edward Zakarian, treasurer; and Gilbert Walker, Jean Brander, Carleton Symes, and Carl Martinsen as representatives to the School Council.

We were ably represented on the gridiron by Alfred DelVisco, Gilbert Walker, Joseph Puglielli, John Dillon, William Dooley, and Charles Brickley.

Barbara Flaherty, Irma Potts, Ann Murdock, Marguerite Shillady, Elvia LeCain, Jean Brander, Mildred Sullivan, Lillian Carter, Marion Bithell, Vivian Hamilton, Virginia Evans, Clara Brackett, Marion Bartlett, Ruth Kaepplein, and Gertrude Bailey were in the Girls' Glee Club Show.

In the Dramatic Club were Silvie Hankins, Howard Furness, Edward Zakarian, Peggy Cahill, Laura MacGillivray, George Chamberlain, Helen Shuman, and Olive Wendelstein.

George Shinners, Arthur Covelle, John Dillon, Robert Conley, and Henry Kearney were our representatives on the Basketball Team.

A Mid-Winter Dance, run by the Junior Class, proved to be very successful.

The Junior Prom, the first in many years, was sponsored with excellent results, under the guidance of Robert Barry, Warren Light, Henry Kearney, Gilbert Walker, and Malcolm Keir.

William Broderick, Edward Zakarian, and Laura MacGillivry were entrants in the Prize Speaking Contest.

Members of the Girls' English Club were Josephine Bailey, Bernice Rood, Agnes Cannon, Esther Skogsberg, Irene Bennett, and Mildred Remar.

In the Gilbert and Sullivan Club were Irene Bennett, Barbara Damren, Laura MacRae, Virginia Peters, Bernice Rood, Lucy Yacobian, Otis Niles, Malcolm Keir, Donald Bond, John Drover, William Coutanche, Ruth Cunningham, Aroxie Haroutunian, Mildred Remar, Martha Moran, Florence MacLean, Suzanne Tongren, Barbara Juliano, Alfred Pywell, and Archillo Giglio.

Comprising the Writers' Club were Ruth Johnson and Maria DiMeo. They later became officers of the same club.

The Junior elected to serve on the Christmas Committee was Gilbert Walker.

It was not only in athletics and social events that our class contributed to the general accomplishments of the school. The Juniors were well represented on the Honor and Credit Lists, and in this respect we feel especially proud of our share in the scholastic achievements of those of our class whose names were included on these lists.

Our track lettermen were Captain Gilbert Walker, Robert Greenquist, and Joseph Mascianica.

Senior Year

The Class of '39 began its most important and enjoyable year in September, 1938. Robert Barry was elected president for the third consecutive term; Warren Light, vice-president; Eleanor Babikian, secretary and Edward Zakarian, treasurer. Carl Martinson, Gilbert Walker, (for the third consecutive time) Everett Thistle, Donald Bond, and Robert Greenquist represented the class in the School Council for the year.

EHS 19 MEMORIES 39

The first event of the year came in December,—the Senior Class Play. Laura MacGillivray and Helen Shuman took the leading roles and were supported by a fine cast consisting of Olive Wendelstein, Malcolm Keir, Henry Powers, William Broderick, Nicholas Parisi, Wilson North, Elvia LeCain, Ernest Bougess, John McCahill, Silvie Hankins, Robert Barry, Helen Cooke, Edward Zakarian, Alfred Pywell, Doris O'Neil, Barbara Damren, and Laura MacRae.

In the annual Glee Club Show were Barbara Flaherty, Jean Brander, Irma Potts, Elvia LeCain, Tina Grassa, Marion Bithell, Ann Murdock, Mildred Sullivan, Ruth Kaepplein, Valda Spinney, Marion Bartlett, Irene MacMillan, Clara Brackett, and Ethel Crosby.

The Dramatic Class had the following members: Silvie Hankins, Laura MacGillivray, Helen Shuman, Edward Zakarian, Helen Cooke, Alexander Jarvie, Howard Furness, Olive Wendelstein, Pearline Wells, Russell Henderson, Robert Hill, David Fowler, and George Chamberlain.

January brought the Senior Prom headed by Robert Barry, Warren Light, Nicholas Parisi, and Marion Bithell.

The Class of '39, in trying to keep up its individuality, wished to have a different and new yearbook. The Editorial Staff consisted of Edward LaRocca, Robert Kalin, and LeRoy LeBert.

In the Prize Speaking Contest were William Broderick, Barbara Damren, Helen Shuman, and Edward Zakarian.

Football lettermen were: Alfred DelVisco, John Dillon, Gilbert Walker, Henry DiVaio, Russell Timmons, George Vasile, Charles Brickley, and Warren Light.

Captain Gilbert Walker, Robert Greenquist, Joseph Mascianica, Edward Lanciani, and Charles Brickley were on the Track Team.

In the Italian Club were Mary DiSabatino, Ann Petrone, Annina Cutone, Angelina Bartolo, Matthew Caradonna, Mary Accardi, Carmen Follo, Horace Rocco, Emelio Cardello, Thelma Rossi, Horace Masciola, Annie Abbene, Thomas DeAgazio, Catherine D'Arco, Mario DiScuillo, Lucy Cavicchi, Grace Fasciani, Nellie LaCortiglia, Nora Indelicato, Marjorie Ragucci, Bianca Finos, and Ophelia Lombardi.

On the Basketball team were Captain Robert Conley, Arthur Covelle, George Shinners, and John Dillon.

The Girls' English Club had Bernice Rood, Irene Bennett, Mildred Remar, Edwina Sacco, Alice McNeff, Genevieve Bonin, Hazel Savory, Agnes Cannon, and Josephine Bailey.

The Lyceum consisted of Nicholas Parisi, William Broderick, Robert Barry, Joseph Book, Alfred Pywell, Roland Bowling, John McCahill, George Kelley, and Edward Bond.

In the Writers' Club were Ruth Johnson, Mary Wade, Maria DeMeo, Clara Brackett, Alice Howell, Margaret Rowell, William Broderick, Joseph DeAngelus, Bernice Rood, Mildred Remar, Paul Gross, Rose Sacco, Edward LaRocca, Ernest Bougess, Albert Guttenberg, and Helen Backman.

Acting upon a suggestion of Mr. Thayer, the class voted to accept the so-called "Activity Plan." A schedule was arranged and a payment of twenty-five cents each month from October to June was agreed upon. The Senior Class Play and "Crimson" were fully paid activities, and both have met with unusual success. All Senior dances, the Yearbook, and Class Day Banquet were to be available at a discount to all Seniors, who subscribed to this plan. The students chosen to represent their home rooms in the working of the activity program were: Alice Alden, Martha Moran, Mary Cantalupi, Margaret Rowell, Dorothy Burrows, Ernest Spear, Margaret Johnson, Claire Harrington, Clifford Querolo, Edith Currier, Silvie Hankins, Chester Curnane, LeRoy LeBert, and Lillian Carter.

The Senior Home Room presidents are Alice Alden, George Vasile, John Drover, Margaret Rowell, Webster Boudreau, Gilbert Walker, Henry Powers, Edward LaRocca, Leslie Kibby, Robert Kalin, Sylvie Hankins, Chester Curnane, LeRoy LeBert, and Mary Catino.

C. J. THAYER

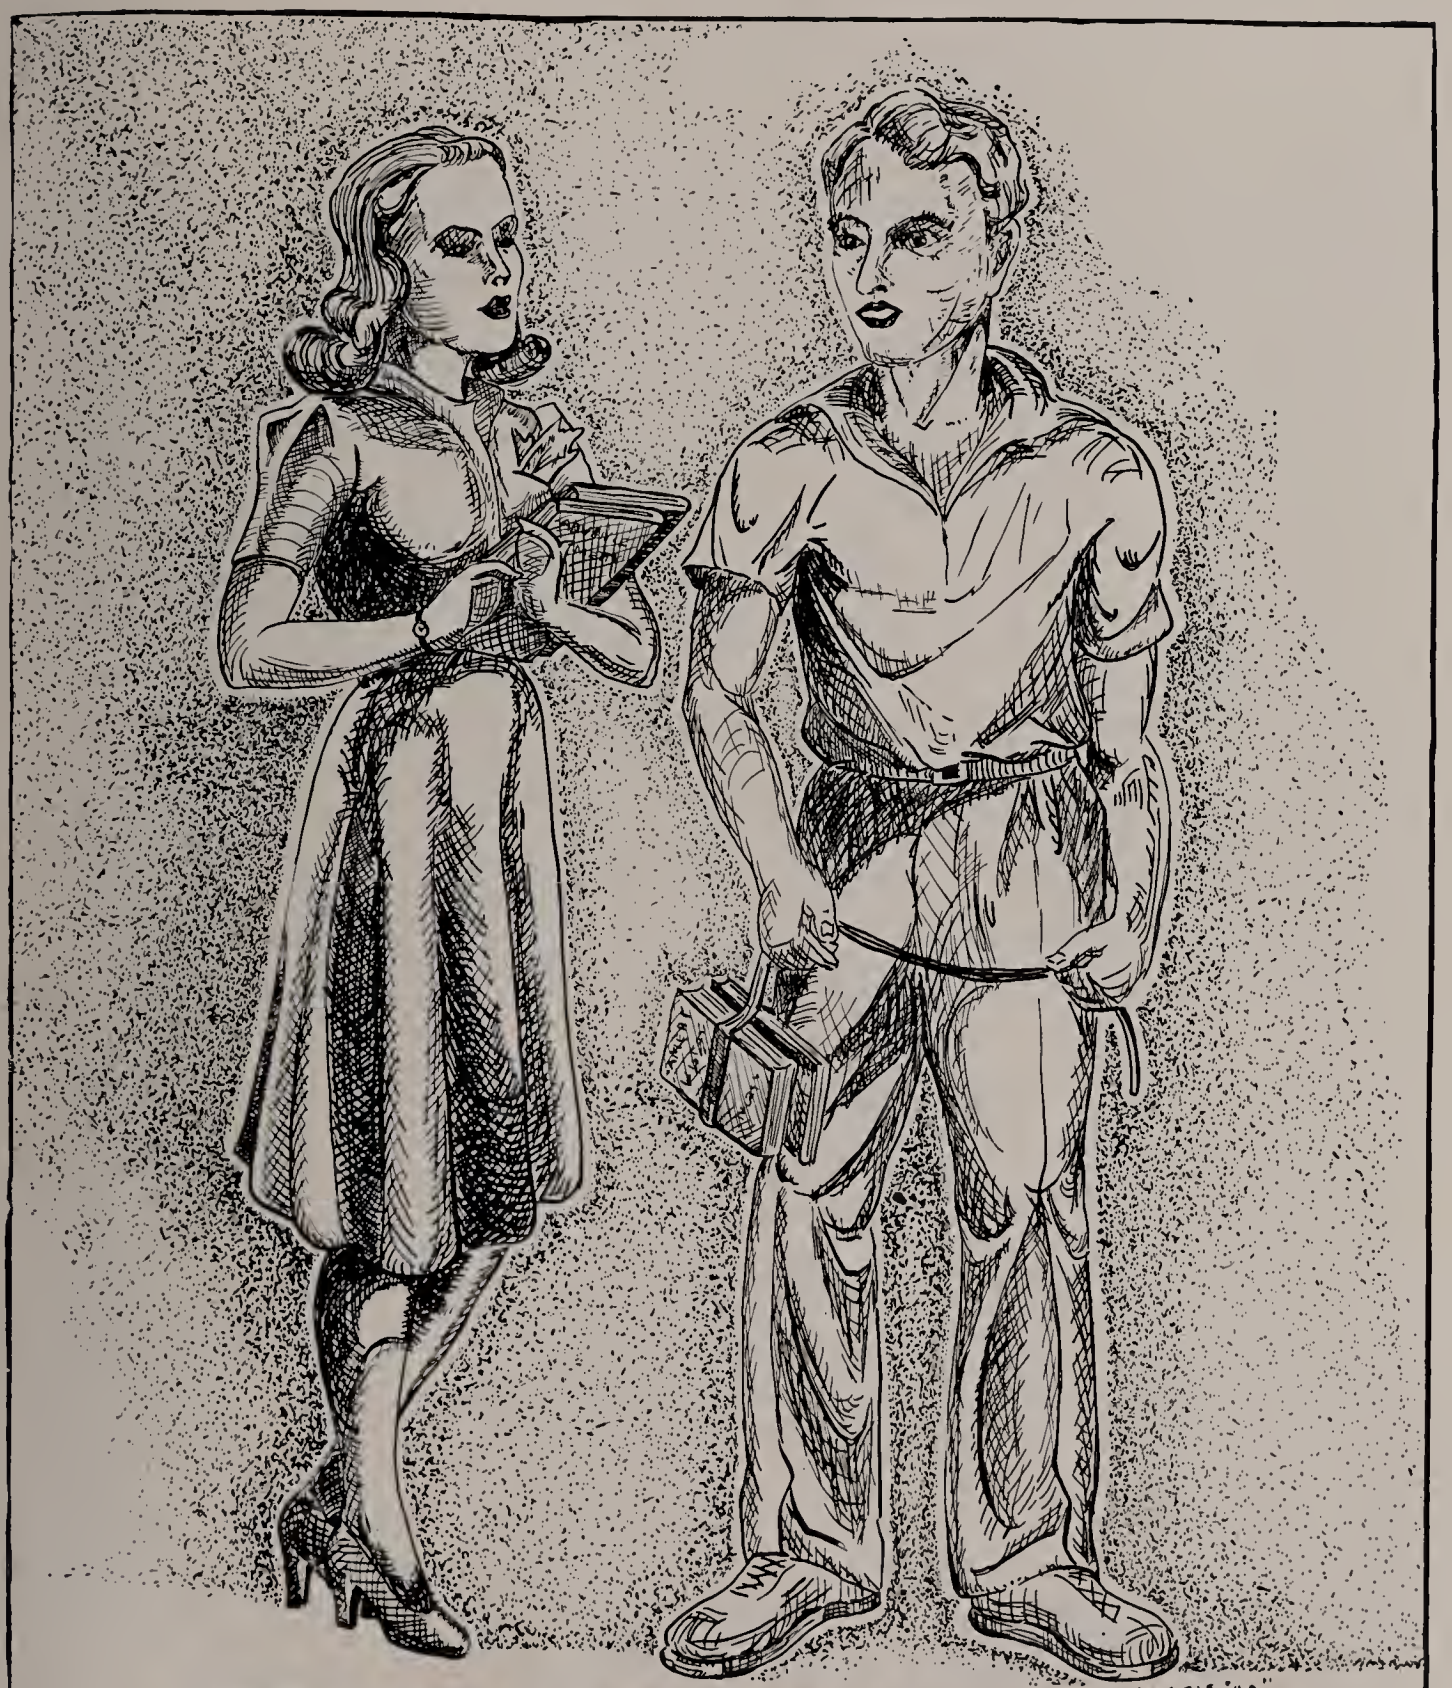
In April of this year, Mr. Thayer, who had acted as submaster and class adviser, was appointed principal of the Winthrop High School. The true feelings of both faculty and students can best be appreciated by the following statement, part of an editorial in the school paper:

"Respected by teachers, a source of inspiration to students, Clarence J. Thayer advances from the position of submaster of Everett High School to the headmaster of neighboring Winthrop High School. Those who know him, and that means all of us, are certain that he will bring to this new responsibility the administrative skill and driving spirit that have made him a valuable cog in this setting—the gain is Winthrop's.

"Students (shall we say in unguarded moments) call him 'C. J.' The tone is not that of the 'smart-aleck,' or of the ill-mannered. It betokens friendliness born of a relationship that has made the student body a better one."

At the time of this printing, many activities, of necessity, have been omitted. However, a complete history of the Class of 1939 will be delivered, as usual, on Senior Class Day.

The Class of 1939 will remain as a beacon to the coming classes since, as Seniors, we were the first to use the activity-discount system, which we hope will be continued; we have had the largest honor roll of the Senior classes thus far; one of the largest graduating classes; a new school paper, a reorganization in the School Council; and have been successful in every undertaking.



JUNIORS

History of the Class of 1940

Sophomore Year

In the fall of 1937, the Class of '40 entered Everett High determined to prove itself a truly outstanding class. Late in the school year we elected the following to grasp the helm of leadership and guide us through the year: Gaspar Sachetta, president; Pasquale Santilli, vice-president; Jeanne Connors, secretary; James Cotter, treasurer; and Robert MacGregory, Jean Rowell, Winifred Davis as members of the School Council.

In the spring the Class held a successful dance, the first Sophomore Class to do so. Thus at the end of the school year we could look back on a successful first year in Everett High School.

Junior Year

In our Junior Year, we elected for officers: Gaspar Sachetta, president; Pasquale Santilla, vice-president; Jeanne Connors, secretary; Peter Merenda, treasurer; Jean Rowell, Winifred Davis, Alma Anderson, and Robert MacGregory, members of the School Council.

With these officers the Class went forward keeping abreast with the successful Senior Class. The Junior Class this year was not only socially successful, but scholarly as well, for there were many on the Honor and Credit Rolls.

Many Juniors took an active part in the school's various organizations as can be seen by the following list:

Lyceum: Charles Radosta, Michael Parisi, Gaspar Sachetta, James O'Donnell, John Gramstoff, William Days, James Cotter, Morris Rutberg, and Robert MacGregory.

Chemistry Club: Arthur White, William De Piano, Charles Neal, Ralph Kaufman, Eli Segelman, Warren Kreuger, K. Kaplan, Wayne Beasley, George Flaxer, Robert Supple, Paul Diamond, and Melvin Sampson.

Camera Club: Peter Foti, Leonard Bishop, Robert MacGregory, and Dexter Atkinson.

Gilbert & Sullivan: Inez Manuel, Ethel Shackian, Warren Woodworth, Edna Partello, Gertrude Ahlin, Catherine Marshall, Harvey Card, John Hill, Peter Merenda, Edward Snook, Margaret Allen, Spencer White, William Days, Helen Falvey, Venita Fenwick, and Lillian Tobias.

Orchestra: Norman Welch, Helen Thompson, Kenneth Abagis, Charles Radosta, Warren Woodworth, William Shapiro, Ralph Kaufman, and Eli Segelman.

Band: Frederick Monahan, Harvey Card, Charles Radosta, Leonard Bishop, Myer Boyarsky, Spencer White, Warren Woodworth, and Ralph Kaufman.

Dramatic Club: Malcolm Dunnan, Mary Bollard, Katherine Graham, Jean Ashley, and Pearl Mayne.

Girls' Glee Club: Carolyn Olson, Faith Johnson, Barbara Pratt, Dorothy Huggins, Marie Long, Eleanor McCool, Frances McGrann, and Elizabeth Paulding.

Library Staff: Grace O'Brien, Esther Santer, Ida MacLeod, Etta Smith, Rita Christenson, Rose Cafasso, and Pearl Neilssien.

Italian Club: Ralph Bibo, Joseph Ciampa, Claudio Cimini, Patrick DeSalvatore, Irene DeBlasio, Florence DiSciullo, Paula Fina, Mary Frisiello, Annette Juliano, Josephine La Porta, Ralph Petrucci, Anne Ragucci, Louis Renzulli, Angelo Rici, Gaspar Sachetta, John Sorrenti, Arthur Stevenson, and Josephine Turco.

The Junior presidents elected to assist the officers were William Days, Herbert Dunn, George Abagis, Grace O'Brien, Robert MacGregory, Ruth Spencer, Mario Gianelli, Adrian Christofels, Inez Manuel, Frederick Monahan, Stephen DiDonato, Michael Parisi, Harry Thistle, Gaspar Sachetta, Andrew Guarino, Robert Supple, Pasquale Santilli, and Chesley Tilley.

Federico, Vinchesi, Cotter, Emerson, Andros, Bognore, Dunn, Mercer, Parisi, Taylor, Rowell, Cafasso, Oteri, Malta, Turco, Niellsien, LaRocca, Abagis, Davis, Santilli, Sachetta, Merenda, Conners, Parisi

Junior Prom Committee

On May 19, those pictured above promoted the finest function that the class of 1940 has thus far sponsored. Amid gayety, laughter, beautiful girls and gowns, three hundred Juniors, Seniors, Sophomores, and invited guests spent an enjoyable evening at the Junior Promenade, which this committee made a brilliant success.

The Junior Class officers—Gaspar Sachetta, Pasquale Santilli, Peter Merenda, and Jeanne Conners, assisted the general committee in the supervision of the affair. They were aided by Edward LaRocca, George Abagis, Michael Parisi, Robert MacGregory, Andrew Vinchesi, Nicholas Parisi, James Bognore, Sylvia Milliken, William Days, Richard Mercer, Mario Federico, Alma Anderson, Jean Rowell, Winifred Davis, Rose Cafasso, Josephine Turco, Inez Manuel, Pearl Neillsien, Nicholas Andros, Thomas Larkin, Elsie Taylor, Herbert Dunn, James Cotter, Wendell Emerson, Constance Malta, and Rose Oteri.

The Prom was held in the Everett High School Gymnasium which was beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns, parasols and hundreds of balloons.

Miss Anne G. Hill, adviser of the class of 1940, and Miss Margaret M. Noland of the Everett faculty were very instrumental in making this year's Junior Prom one of the best.

History of the Class of 1941

We, the Sophomores, have at last attained the objective for which we have so long aspired—to be students of Everett High.

At this point in our education, we are treated like young men and women and try to act like our prototypes, the Seniors. Childish ways are abandoned and we adopt the responsibility of keeping the standard of our school on the same plane as did our predecessors.

We are extremely grateful for the reception we received at the Sophomore Dance at the first of the year. We appreciate the time and energy that was put into this affair. That little reception made us feel welcome to this big school; it made us feel we were among friends.

It was difficult at first to get accustomed to the manner of our upper classmen. They looked down upon us for our faults, forgetting that, at one time, they too were new-comers to Everett High. But our ideas are advancing and we are reaching the point where our faults are few.

The Sophomores who answered the call for track candidates were Aldrich Walker, Arthur Andros, Edward Diamond, George O'Neil, Murray Furlong, Joseph Kelley, Thornton Clark, Stanley Calson, Herbert Benton, and Victor Finos.

The pupils who assisted in the Glee Club Show were Barbara Tabor, Catherine Aylwood, Edith Oberlander, Eleanor Barbrick, Frances Canderozzi, Marion Brown, Ruth Smith, Margaret Bonifer, Virginia Margeson, Evelyn D'Eon, and Marion Bowen.

The Sophomore homeroom presidents are Rita Giordano, Lucille Gates, Harriet Banville, Mario Frederico, Bernard Woodman, Marion McDonough, George Wilson, John Upton, Michael LaRocca, Mildred Morris, Virginia Driscoll, Bernard Gallagher, Francis Kelliher, Robert Rossi, Albert Jones, Patricia Campbell, Victor Finos, William Jordan, Richard Fredrickson, Michael DeLeo, Alva Greenquist, and Herman Johansen.

The School Council

At the first meeting of the Student Council in September, 1938, the following officers were elected: Vice-chairman, Gilbert Walker; secretary, Winifred Davis; treasurer, Carl Martinson.

The council planned its work for the year with the purpose of making Everett High "School Council Conscious." To help carry out this idea, the Council sponsored a series of seven assemblies, covering a wide range of subjects including the Boston Concert Band, motion pictures, and a demonstration and lecture by Professor Frey of Lehigh University.

A registry and directory were placed at the Maple Avenue entrance at the Council's request. During the year, the Council conducted an intensive clean-up campaign, which caused a great improvement in the appearance of our school.

The climax of the council year was the Symphony Concert, held on the evening of May 4. The music was supplied by the State Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Alexander Thiede. Arrangements for this concert were made through the Federal Music Bureau.

The Council enjoyed a very successful year and accomplished its purpose of making Everett High School "School Council Conscious".

The Christmas Basket Committee

This year, as in many others, the Christmas Basket Committee brought credit to our school for a job well done.

It is the custom of this committee, aided by the members of the faculty and the student body, to bring relief and the spirit of Christmas to those unfortunate and needy families who would otherwise have awakened to a dreary and feastless Christmas.

Contributions of canned goods and non-perishable foods were requested and, as usual, met with hearty response. Members of our school responded, en masse, to our annual Christmas Show and a large sum of money was appropriated. Through these contributions, over 250 baskets were filled, and on December 24, were transported by trucks to their destination and distributed by members of the committee and faculty members.

Much credit for the ever-increasing success of this group must be given to its head and adviser, Mr. Joseph J. Cantalupi. It is he who forms this committee every year and steers it to its ultimate success.

Others on the committee were: Robert Barry, Gilbert Walker, Everett Thistle, Joseph Puglielli, Warren Light, Charles Mason, Richard Mercer, Joseph O'Donnell, Horace Rocco, Santo Vinci, Alfred DelVisco, Carl Martinson, LeRoy LeBert, David Fowler, Joseph Cantalupi, Mary Cantalupi, Annie Abbene, Mary Geary, Michael DeLeo, Anthony Lucci, Frederick Luongo, George Vasile, Joseph Toth, Louis Caso, John Desmond, John Dillon, Wilfred DeRosa, George Benson, Mary Wade, Edna Taylor, Ann Murdock, Esther Skogsberg, Helen Brickley, and Margaret Johnson.

The Band

Once again last fall student spectators at the Everett High School football games rose from their seats and cheered heartily as the band, brilliantly attired in its crimson and blue uniforms, strutted into the stadium.

Ottavio J. DeVivo and George W. Clay carried on in their usual fine manner as director and faculty manager, respectively.

The Band also performed splendidly at assemblies and at Parents' Night.

Cheer Leaders: Nicholas Parisi, Eileen Callahan, Mary Lawrence, Lucy Yacobian, Phyllis Horgan, Helen Dirko, Eleanor Boudreau, and Patricia Campbell.

The Orchestra

The Everett High School Orchestra of 1939, under the direction of Ottavio J. DeVivo, once more supplied the musical portion of the school assemblies. This excellent musical organization performed commendably at the Senior Class Play, the Girls' Glee Club Show, Drama Night, and many other extracurricula events. All the members assisted nobly in the sale of the W. P. A. Symphony tickets as well.

The students who received their points were Eleanor Babikian, Helen Hall, Julia Zeichick, Richard Bond, Otis Niles, Robert Kalin, Charles Radosta, William MacLaughlin, Leith Leard, Donald Parsons, Robert Moister, William Shapiro, Frederick Monahan, Isadore Vernofsky, David Terry, Alva Niles, Harvey Card, Beverly Ullian, Virginia Babikian, Muriel Boyarsky, Warren Woodworth, James Fiore, Fred Garofolo, Warren Light, Walter Jones, Ralph Kaufman, Vivian Hamilton, Vincent Scotti, William Coutanche, Carl Poehler, Malcolm Keir, Wilson North, Catherine O'Donnell, Eli Segelman, Fred Gibson, Austin Wilson, Silvia Gorshell, Saul Cutler, Barbara Tabor, Kenneth Atwood, Martin Philips, Kenneth Abagis, Warren McLaughlin, Barbara Juliano, Helen Thompson, Vanoohy Haroutunian, Norman Welch, and Grant Ross.

Mr. DeVivo held many absorbing discussions concerning various phases of music.

Senior Class Play

Following the reputation of the Class of '39 for its originality, the Senior Class Play, "Night of January 16," was the first murder mystery that Everett High has seen for eight years.

The scene took place in a courtroom, with "twelve good men and true" selected from the audience. Karen Andre was on trial for the murder of the man she loved, Bjorn Faulkner. He was a hard, unscrupulous business man who married a wealthy girl to save his own fortune. Foreseeing a crash, Bjorn planned a fake suicide in order to escape to South America with Karen and the money. His plans miscarried, and Karen was tried for his murder. Neither participants nor audience knew whether or not the defendant, played by Laura MacGillivray, was guilty of the murder of her former employer until the verdict was announced.

The following students were cast in the production: Helen Shuman, Wilson North, Edward Zakarian, Elvia LeCain, William Broderick, Ernest Bougess, John McCahill, Silvie Hankins, Robert Barry, Helen Cooke, Doris O'Neil, Malcolm Keir, Alfred Pywell, Henry Powers, Nicholas Parisi, Olive Wendelstein, Barbara Damren, and Laura McRae. The jury was made up of Edward LaRocca, John Labenski, Gaspar Sachetta, Russell Duffett, Carl Martinson, Leonard Card, Ernest Spear, Michael DeLeo, Charles Mason, John Drover, Robert Finlay, and Roland Bowling.

The Dramatic Class

The Dramatic Class was organized in 1930, with Miss Matilda Clement as director, to stimulate interest in dramatics among the students of the high school. Since that time the class has rapidly progressed in the field of drama until now it stands high in the list of high school dramatic societies. For two consecutive years, 1938 and 1939, this class has won the Massachusetts Inter-scholastic Drama Festival.

Each year an annual Drama Night is presented by the students in Rockwood Auditorium, at which time a group of one act plays is performed. This year on April 14, three one act plays were presented: "The Hazard," "No Sabe," and "The Lost Elevator."

At the Massachusetts Drama Festival, held this year at the Durfee High School in Fall River on April 1, 1939, "The Hazard" was presented by the class and was selected as one of the two plays to represent Massachusetts at the New England Drama Festival in Northfield, Vermont, April 28-29. At the finals held there, Everett in competition with teams from each State in New England, was awarded third prize.

The Lyceum

The Lyceum is one of the oldest school organizations in Greater Boston. It was founded over forty-five years ago by the late Wilbur J. Rockwood, former principal of Everett High School.

Besides developing many fine speakers, the Lyceum annually holds a dance, the proceeds of which are donated to the Christmas Basket Fund. The dance committee of 1939, consisting of Nicholas Parisi, Wendell Emerson, and Morris Rutberg, ran a very successful affair, enabling the organization to contribute over fifty dollars to the fund.

The Lyceum was also represented in the Christmas Pageant by Nicholas Parisi, Mario Federico, Robert Barry, Michael DeLeo, and Gaspar Sachetta.

The Lyceum officers for the past year were: Robert Barry, president; William Broderick, vice president; George Kelly, recording secretary; Gaspar Sachetta, corresponding secretary; and Nicholas Parisi, treasurer.

The Debating Team

The first and second debates were with Lynn Classical on the subject: "Resolved, That the United States Establish An Alliance With Great Britain." On the first team were Robert Barry, Nicholas Parisi, and James O'Donnell, with Barry giving the rebuttal. At Lynn Classical, the team consisted of Gaspar Sachetta, William Broderick, and Michael DeLeo, with Gaspar Sachetta delivering the rebuttal.

The third and fourth debates with Arlington High School, were on the subject: "Resolved, That All National Labor Unions Be Abolished." Representing the Lyceum at Arlington were Gaspar Sachetta and Mario Federico; Sachetta took the rebuttal. At home, Robert MacGregory and Gaspar Sachetta debated, with Gaspar Sachetta taking the rebuttal. The Lyceum also had interesting debates with Revere and Chelsea.

William Broderick represented Everett High in the American Legion Contest with a speech on the Constitution. Other Lyceum boys took part in the annual Prize Speaking Contest and the Prize Debate.

Gilbert and Sullivan Club

The Everett High School Gilbert & Sullivan Club was organized in 1935. Every year since that time this excellent musical organization has successfully produced an operetta written by those master composers of light opera, Gilbert & Sullivan. The Club's work to date includes "Pinafore", "Pirates of Penzance", "Mikado", and "Iolanthe".

On March 23 and 24 this choral group presented "Iolanthe" as their annual production. They were enthusiastically received by a large audience.

Mr. Ottavio J. DeVivo, musical director and founder of the Club, praised this organization as being one of the best, both on account of its fine vocal ability and its consistent cooperation. The success of this Club is remarkable, considering the fact that all sixty-five members meet and rehearse without credit, outside of school hours.

Officers are: President, Malcolm Keir; vice president, Robert Miller; secretary, Florence MacLean; and treasurer, Barbara Damren.

The Science Service Club

The Science Service Club was founded in 1932 by Mr. Edward S. Bryant, Head of the Science Department, who is faculty adviser to the club. The purpose of the Club is to create and further an interest in scientific fields. The members of this organization meet each month and delve deeper into the fields of science through both observation and experiment.

The club has had the privilege of listening to several lectures pertaining to the various scientific topics which they have studied. These lectures were often illustrated by moving pictures. Money obtained by means of dues and sale of magazines is used to buy books which are presented to the school library.

There is a Junior and Senior Chapter in the club. The Junior group is headed by William McLaughlan, and Mary O'Sullivan is president of the Seniors.

The Senior members are Mary O'Sullivan, president; Alexander Jarvie, vice-president; Effie Browne, Robert Hill, Robert Alwell, Mary McCauley, Roxie Sevoian, Carmella Petruzzi, Mary Moscato, and Doris Richenburg.

The Girls' Glee Club

One of the oldest and best known clubs in Everett High School is the Girls' Glee Club. This group of sopranos, second sopranos, and altos is under the able direction of Miss Myra H. A. Marshall. The girls engage in many entertainments during the year. They sing at the annual Parents' Night Assembly; put on a complete musical comedy show; sponsor and carry out the special Glee Club Spring Concert Assembly; and sing on Class Day.

Besides this, several individual girls often sing solos and duets at class assemblies which usually occur about once a month.

This year's show, "Christina of Greenland," not only carried on the high standards of previous years, but, in the opinion of many, even excelled former presentations. The leading parts were taken by Mildred Sullivan, Wilson North, Jean Brander, Ann Murdock, Malcolm Kier, and Robert Barry.

The Club membership includes: Club Manager, Jean Brander; members, Mildred Sullivan, Clara Brackett, Ann Murdock, Barbara Flaherty, Elvia LeCain, Valda Spinney, Irene MacMillan, Irma Potts, Marion Bartlett, Ethel Crosby, Gertrude Bailey, Marion Bithell, Lillian Carter, Ruth Kapplein, Dorothy Huggins, Marie Long, Eleanor McCool, Carolynne Olson, Marjorie Paulding, Barbara Pratt, Catherine Aylwood, Eleanor Barbrick, Marion Bowen, Evelyn D'Eon, Frances Canderozzi, Virginia Margeson, Edith Oberlander, Ruth Smith, Barbara Tabor, Margaret Bonifer, and Corrinne Leeman.

The Writers' Club

The purpose of the Writers' Club is to bring together those students who are interested in improving what talent they may have for writing. Under the direction of Mrs. Lawlor, faculty adviser, the twenty members of this club have held weekly meetings. At these meetings the various types of literature, such as poetry, the essay, the one-act play, and the short story were discussed.

Two guest speakers addressed the club this year. Mr. W. S. Hall of the faculty, who has written many editorials for a local newspaper, spoke on the editorial. Miss Truth Abbot, a former member of the club and a member of the Writers' Club of Boston University, spoke on the essay.

Every member brought to the meetings all his literary attempts. These were read and constructively criticized.

To stimulate interest and to improve the quality of work, club contests were held. Work was also sent to the Scholastic Magazine contest. Several members made contributions to the school newspaper in the way of poetry, stories, editorials, and sport comments.

The members of the club for the year 1938-39 were Ruth Johnson, president; Clara Brackett, vice president; Maria DiMeo, secretary; Mary Wade, treasurer; Helen Backman, Ann Patchis, Alice Howell, William Broderick, Margaret Rowell, Rose Sacco, Anna Trischitta, Mildred Remar, Bernice Rood, Ernest Bougess, Paul Gross, Albert Guttenberg, Barbara Ingersoll, Edward LaRocca, Catherine Doherty, and Joseph DeAngelus.

Girls' English Club

The Girls' English Club was organized in 1930 with Miss Kelly as its faculty adviser. The general purpose of the organization has been to acquaint the members with various women authors. A discussion of one author's life and works is held at each monthly meeting. Three girls are appointed every month to direct the discussion for the following meeting.

Monthly dues of ten cents per member are collected. With this money the club donates books, amounting to the sum of five dollars, to the school library. The girls also have the pleasure of attending a Pops Concert.

The members of the club are as follows: Josephine Bailey, president; Irene Bennett, vice-president; Virginia Doris, treasurer; Jeanne Connors, secretary; Genevieve Bonin, Alice McNeff, Ann Patchis, Hazel Miles, Marjorie Ragucci, Bernice Rood, Edwina Sacco, Marguerite Sapienza, Hazel Savory, Esther Skogsberg, Shirley Spinney, Elizabeth Thomas, Hazel Tillberg, Helen Tillberg, Suzanne Torngren, Mary Abbene, Alma Anderson, Edith Bradley, Mary Blanchard, Juanita Chavis, Florence Fleischer, Irene Ginsberg, Freda Katz, Gertrude Kelly, Emma Moccia, Ruth Wiederhold, and Electa Gayton.

Library Staff

The Library Staff, organized as a small group in 1035, has grown in activity and usefulness until it is now an integral part of our school. Members are required to give one period each week to assist in the various routine duties of the Library. Although a high standard of work is the first demand in this group, the cultural and social sides are also emphasized.

Every Friday during period seven the girls meet for discussion, to listen to an invited guest, or just for fun.

During the year an effort is made to take advantage of Boston's many cultural opportunities. The present group saw the "Moonlight Sonata", attended the Boston Book Fair, visited Mrs. Jack Gardner's Palace and the Spring Flower Show, and went to the "Pops".

A book fair was held early in December for the benefit of the Christmas fund. With the cooperation of the school, the staff collected old periodicals and books which were disposed of at prices ranging from one cent to twenty-five. This was the first effort of the Staff to participate in a general school activity. It was so successful that they are planning to make it an annual event. The Club is under the supervision of Miss Helen Gindele.

The Crimson

With the beginning of school this past autumn, students were greeted with a new school publication under the name of 'The Crimson." Up until that time, Everett High School had not had a school newspaper for a period of several years. At the request of many of the students, particularly the Seniors, a student publication was set up with head offices in Room 211 and with Mr. Thomas J. Curtin as faculty adviser.

The paper was founded late in the school year 1938, by the Honor Society. However, the lack of sponsor held any production back until Mr. Curtin kindly volunteered his services.

Beginning with absolutely no financial resources whatsoever, "The Crimson" has expanded phenomenally during the past year. Presenting many interesting feature stories, highlights of the school sporting world, news of class and club activities, thoughtful editorials, the paper has pleased the student body beyond expectations, as shown by the large circulation.

Its director, Mr. Curtin, has been a constant help to the young journalists who have worked hard to give Everett High a good publication—one that will continue indefinitely.

The Staff Members are: Edward LaRocca, Edward Zakarian, Mary Wade, Hazel Savory, Daisy Thompson, Everett Thistle, Arthur Solari, Ann Patchis, Laura MacGillivray, Barbara Damren, Michael LaRocca, Florence MacLean, Clara Brackett, Gaspar Sachetta, Eleanor Babikian, Elvia LeCain, Marjorie Ragucci, Alvin Kaplan, Grace Fasciani, Arthur Andros, Nicholas Parisi, William Broderick, Nicholas Andros, Robert MacGregory, Gertrude Kelly, Eileen Callahan, Mario Federico, Bernard Woodman, Mary Geary, Margaret Johnson, Virginia Finkler, Nancy Nelson, Virginia Finkler, Patrick DeSalvatore, Laura MacRae, Aroxie Harootunian, George Abagis, Irene MacMillan, Russell Carroll, Walter Jones, and Ruth Goldman.

The Camera Club

The Camera Club, under the direction of Mr. Whittemore, was organized in the fall of 1938. The original membership of nine members has increased to nineteen in the course of a year, and a still larger group is expected to enroll next year.

During the year the weekly business meetings have been followed by either a discussion on some phase of photography or practical work in the darkroom. Among the subjects studied have been contact printing, enlarging, intensification and reduction of negatives, print toning, lenses, films and papers, and color photography.

Several photographic trips have been taken, and meetings have been held at the homes of several members for the purpose of doing practical work.

A monthly contest has been held for the members and the two winning photographs from each contest will participate in a final contest in May.

The club has joined with other camera clubs from Massachusetts High Schools in forming the Massachusetts High Schools Camera Club. This group is sponsoring a conference and contest at Northeastern University on May 27.

The members of the club have been active about the school, taking many pictures at activities and in the class rooms.

The officers are, president, Roland Bowling, '39; vice-president, Lee Roberts, '40; Phyllis DiBiaso, '41; secretary-treasurer. The other members are Arthur Solari, Jennie Bello, Charles Bowser, Ruth Smith, Vernon Williams, Walter Mullen, Thomas DeLeo, Dexter Atkinson, John Romanowicz, Peter Foti, Leonard Bishop, Eleanor Bell, and Norman Speirs.

The Girls' Debating Club

The Girls' Debating Club is the youngest of all the high school clubs, having been organized by Mr. Mahan immediately after Christmas.

Remarkable progress has been made considering the amount of time the girls and their faculty adviser have had. Already they have studied the correct methods of debating and have held several informal debates. Present world conditions, the existing armament race, and important domestic affairs have been discussed thoroughly.

The members of the organization are as follows: Ruth Goldman, Barbara Laskey, Elizabeth Thomas, Theresa Kierskowski, Mary McCormick, Irene Bennett, Kathryn Capen, Barbara McGuinness, Jeanne Connors, Esther Skogsberg, Freda Katz, Mary McCauley, Ruth Spencer, Marguerite Shillady, Lucy Yacobian, Barbara Damren, Marion Stickney, Anna Puglielli, Millie Minchiello, Marguerite Blanchard, Alice McNeff, Grace Kline, Ethel Dorney, Florence Moreschi, Mildred Crosio, Genevieve Bonin, Patricia Tallent, Mary Geary, Barbara Rogers, Lillian Tobias, Ruth Eaton, Leone Bunn, Gertrude Kelley, Marjorie Gould, Effie Browne, Dorothy McKearney, Nancy Nelson, and Eileen Callahan.

The Spanish Club

The Spanish Club has had a very successful year under the leadership of its executive staff, May Sergi, president; Alice Alden, vice president; Violet Fullum, secretary; and Jean Barnard, treasurer.

The club has held many socials, the most notable one being the Christmas Party which was celebrated in the true Spanish fashion on January 6. During the year, the group visited Mrs. Jack Gardner's Palace, the Museum of Fine Arts, and the private art museum of Emmanuel College. At many meetings discussions were conducted by members concerning the language and customs of Spain. The club also has a yearbook and holds a Senior party every May.

Members of the Spanish Club: Jean Barnard, Marion Connors, Mary Gibbons, Vivian Hamilton, Dorothy Lawton, Alice Alden, Elizabeth Beggs, Bernice Boudreau, Florence Burden, Dorothy Burrows, Agnes Cannon, Claire Casey, Marion Clarke, Rose Cohen, Ann Dwyer, Violet Fullum, Beatrice Lapidus, Evelyn Lord, Catherine Maddox, Ann Medugno, Mary Miraldi, Susie Profenna, Josephine Profenna, Rose Sacco, Selma Shaffer, Shirley Smart, Mae Sergi, Grace Smith, and Florence Young.

The Spanish Club is conducted under the supervision of Miss Agbay.

The Italian Club

The Italian Club was established by Mr. Victor E. DeRubeis in 1938. The officers of the club are: Thomas DeAgazio, president; Horace Rocco, vice president; Matthew Caradona, treasurer; and Mary DiSabatino, secretary.

On March 17, 1939, the organization sponsored an Italian Night. Included in the program was a chorus, with Miss Ophelia V. Lombardi, who sang Italian songs, acting as soloist. A group of dancers rendered an Italian folk dance, and a play, "Le Tre Grazie," was given entirely in Italian.

The following members of the club took part in the play: Claudio Cimini, Grace Fasciani, Rose Messina, Mario Federico, Mary DiSabatino, Irene DiBlasio, and Ophelia Lombardi.

Others in the organization are Joseph DeFillipo, Joseph Ciampa, Gaspar Sachetta, Ralph Bibo, Patrick DeSalvatore, Florence DiSciullo, Paula Fina, Mary Frisiello, Bianca Finos, Annette Juliano, Josephine LaPorta, Ralph Luongo, Rose Oteri, Marguerite Palermino, Anne Petrone, Ella Petrucci, Anne Ragucci, Louis Renzulli, Angelo Ricci, John Sorrenti, Arthur Stevenson, Josephine Turco, Charles Radosta, Mary Accardi, Ruth Burke, Amelio Cardello, Horace Masciola, Annie Abbene, Catherine D'Arco, Lucy Cavicchi, Nora Indelicato, Marjorie Ragucci, Angelina Bartolo, Carmen Follo, Thelma Rossi, Nellie LaCortiglia, Mario DiSciullio, Annina Cutone, Clifford DiSanto, Paul Ducott, and Warren Zannino.

The Everett Hi-Y Club

One of the most outstanding organizations in the High School is the Everett Hi-Y Club. Hi-Y is a growing cavalcade, representing 6,500 clubs in 48 states of the Union. Membership is a valuable asset to every high school boy because of the training it gives him.

In Hi-Y Clubs boys discover their best selves. They learn how to use their leisure; what kind of education they need; for what vocation they want to prepare. They learn how to get along with people; what is good sportsmanship, right conduct, and courtesy in social life. They develop attitudes toward people of other races, other religions, other economic levels; toward such questions of personal conduct as gambling, drinking, and smoking. In club meetings they express and exchange views, develop initiative, carry responsibility, and practice leadership. They are united in a bond of friendship and Christian living which is high spiritual experience.

The officers are: President, Ernest Ahlquist; vice president, Chester Curnane; recording secretary, Vernon Williams; corresponding secretary, Herbert Mader; treasurer, Norman Welch.

This year's membership list includes the names of William Broderick, Carl Martinson, Walter Crocker, Russell Timmons, James Magee, Arthur Huggins, William Karlson, Michael DeLeo, Thomas DeLeo, William Nolan, Frank Ellington, Roland Bowling, Edward Kelly, Harold Hibbard, Harold Harris, Charles Rankin, William DePiano, Charles Furness, Nicholas Andros, Frank O'Leary, and Louis Oppici.

The Chemistry Club

The Everett High School Chemistry Club of 1938-1939 was organized late in the year by a group of enthusiastic Junior boys who were anxious to supplement their regular chemistry work with some interesting phases of commercial and laboratory work. The regular club period has been spent in learning to analyze simple unknowns. Every third week the program consisted of a demonstration experiment by one of the club members.

The Club has sponsored several industrial trips which included visits to Lever Bros. Soap Plant, The Revere Sugar Refinery, The Moxie Company, and The New England Confectionery Company. The highlight of the year is always the trip through the Monsanto Chemical Company's plant in Everett. Here many of the processes studied during the year are seen in actual operation.

The club is under the supervision of Hazel W. Holt and consists of the following members: Arthur White, president; Ralph Kaufman, vice president; William DePiano, secretary; Robert Supple, treasurer; Charles Neal, Warren Kruger, Melvin Sampson, Kalman Kaplan, Paul Diamond, Gerald Flaxer, Wayne Beasley, Charles Sheehan, and Eli Segilman.

Lanciani, Bourgeois, Fedderson, Sprague, Barrington, Smith, Tanner, Stafferi, Huggins, Pelosi, Livingstone, Curnane, Merenda, McCauley, Campagna, Parsons, Kibby, Mercer, Cantalupi, Mr. Putnam, MacRae, Malta, Corkum

The Sportsman's Club

This year marks the second year of the existence of a Sportsman's Club. The members are led by Mr. Lenox B. Putnam, who is himself an ardent fisherman and hunter.

The purposes of this club are to teach safety in the use of firearms, to create an interest in the propagation of fish and game, and to provide an opportunity to learn a hobby which will not cease at the end of school.

Meetings are held once a week at which time papers on some phase of hunting or fishing are read. The entrance requirements are simple. First, each boy must be a member in good standing of Everett High School. Second, he must possess either a hunting or fishing license of Massachusetts and be familiar with the fish and game laws. Most important of all, he must know how to handle a gun safely and be able to demonstrate this knowledge. Every month each member must complete a project which is in his field. These include decoy making, taxidermy, rod-making, fly tying, and fly-casting.

The club members are as follows:

President, Joseph Cantalupi
Vice President, Peter Merenda
Secretary, Roy Parsons
Treasurer, Francis Pelosi

Charles Sprague
Chester Barrington
Roderick MacRae
Anthony Malta
Edward Bourgeois
Gordon Tanner
Cecil Tilly
Robert Corkum

Senior Prom Committee

The efforts of the Senior Prom Committee were rewarded by one of the most successful Proms in recent years. In Julian Ross's Orchestra, the committee secured one of the leading dance orchestras in this vicinity. No pains were spared to make this dance the leading social function of the Senior Class.

The committee worked hard and spent much time to make the gym over into a typical winter setting.

The committee, headed by Robert Barry, included the following Seniors—Warren Light, Edward Zakarian, Eleanor Babikian, Gilbert Walker, Carl Martinson, Robert Greenquist, Donald Bond, Everett Thistle, Edward Kelley, Gertrude Moriarty, Phyllis Horgan, Josephine Baily, Henry Kearney, Nicholas Parisi, Genevieve Bonin, Barbara Damren, Alice Alden, Brenton Vaughn, Richard Mercer, Lucy Yacobian, Celia Plochter, Rita Lanouette, Chester Curnane, Marion Bithell, William Miller, Clifford Querolo, George Chamberlain, Claire Harrington, Donald Parsons, Phyllis Moss, and Howard Furness. The faculty assistants were Miss Noland and Mr. Putnam.

SENIOR PROMENADE

Christmas Pageant

The year 1938 saw the revival of Christmas pageantry at the Everett Senior High School. The pageant this year took the form of a series of scenes depicting the Annunciation, the first Christmas, and the adoration of the Magi.

The dramatic parts were enacted by members of the Dramatic Club and the Lyceum. New effects in choral speaking were attempted with great success. The part of Mary was played with great sincerity and sympathy by Laura MacGillivray.

Music, vocal and instrumental, was supplied by the Gilbert and Sullivan Club, the Girls' Glee Club, and members of the Band. The success of the music was due in large part to the unselfish efforts of large groups of singers never present on the stage.

The beauty of the production was enhanced by the use of simple but striking scenery, and effective lighting. This was made possible through the efforts of Mr. Koetter, assisted by Howard Furness.

Costumes, varying from the sumptuous robes of the Eastern kings to the plain garments of the shepherds on the hillside, were designed by Miss Bjornwall and her assistants in the Household Arts Department.

The pageant was presented twice under the direction of Miss Clark, Miss Clement, Mr. Coughlan, Mr. DeVivo, and Miss Marshall. At the close of each performance, beautiful souvenir programs were distributed to the pupils. It is hoped that similar pageants will be given in the years to come.

E. H. S. FOOTBALL TEAM

Football

The Everett High School football squad opened its 1938 season in a blaze of glory by defeating Concord High 32 to 8. The next game was somewhat disappointing for Everett was held to a scoreless tie by Salem. On October 8, the team returned to the victory trail, trouncing Newton 25 to 0.

The next three Saturdays marked a period of despondency caused by three defeats, which came at the hands of Manchester, Medford, and Somerville. This string of three successive set-backs set a new low for a Gildea-coached team at Everett.

Things began to look up again after the hard-fighting Revere team was beaten 6 to 0. The Everett team and students both seemed to recover their lost spirits and to hope for a brighter future.

The next opponent was Malden, at that time first in the running for the state championship. The result of this game exceeded even the hopes of the most optimistic. Under the capable leadership of Captain Fred Del Visco, Everett completely outplayed Malden and gained gained an 8 to 0 victory.

On Thanksgiving Day, Everett brought its season to a close with the much-awaited Chelsea match. This engagement resulted in another tie, Everett evening the score of 6 to 6 in the last quarter.

Basketball

At the beginning of the 1938-1939 season, the basketball outlook at Everett High School was not very cheerful. Coach Lenox Putnam went to work on an inexperienced team, composed of Captain Bob Conley, center, Art Covelle and Bill DeRosa, guards, with Jack Comerford and John Dillon occupying forward positions. However, Bill DeRosa yielded his position to George Shinners, who was pushed up from a reserve position.

After winning the first three games, Everett was defeated by its arch-rival Chelsea, by a score of 32 to 15. Everett then defeated Chelsea in the home game, and lost only to a championship Somerville team. After a record season of eleven victories and four losses, the Crimson quintet was invited to compete in the annual North Shore Tournament at Danvers, where the home team was defeated by a powerful Lawrence team.

Other students who helped Everett soar to championship heights were Michael DeLeo, outstanding Sophomore star; Chet Pagluccia, Angie LePore, Carl Johnson, and the two efficient student managers, Edward Zakarian and Chester Curnane.

Baseball

As this book goes to press, Coach Gildea is working hard to develop a championship team. With several veterans and an outstanding crop of newcomers reporting for daily practice, the chances for a strong team seem favorable.

The veterans reporting were Capt. DiCesare, Charles Brickley, Lou DiSabatini, Jack Comerford, and Bob Conley. One of the most promising of the new candidates to report was George Burnham, a sophomore, who has been playing a fine game at shortstop and showing remarkable power at the plate.

With the season half over the team has won four and lost six. Of those games won, Bob Conley has won three while Brickley has won the others. Although Everett has won only two of the five league contests, the team is not discouraged and has high hopes of coming in first at the end of the season. The season's scores to date are as follows:

Track

Under the leadership of Coach Gildea, Melanson, and Capt. Gil Walker, who served his second year in that capacity, the Everett High track team had a most successful season. Though severely handicapped in the indoor season by the loss of their leader, the Crimson forces carried on nobly.

Joe Mascianica performed excellently all season for the Crimson, setting new school records in the broad jump, and shot-put. William MacMillan, a Junior, upheld the prestige of the Crimson during the indoor season by his sterling performances in the thousand-yard run. Robert Greenquist, Joseph Spacer, Edward Lanciani, and Daniel Luciano all performed well and were recipients of track letters.

During the absence of Captain Walker, Robert Greenquist ably substituted for him, both at the Everett track and in the outside meets.

In the indoor season the team fared quite well in dual competition, but due to the loss of their chief point-getter, did not come up to expectations in state-wide competition.

Members of this year's team include: Captain Gil Walker, Joe Mascianica, Bob Greenquist, Joe Spacer, Ed Lanciani, William MacMillan, Daniel Luciano, Russell Timmons, Louis Amorosa, Norman Courage, Anthony Zaya, Peter Merenda, and Victor Finos.

Girls' Basketball

Success at last! After three years of . . . "Senior team out!" . . . "Overguarding—free shot Juniors!" . . . "Guard out!" . . . "Forward out!" . . . and endless other commands, the girls have something to show for their efforts. They have at last received recognition for their fine sportsmanship. Large red "E's" for the Seniors, and smaller ones for the Sophomores are now the awards for the players.

The Class of '39 has set a fine example for fellow enthusiasts. In '37, they were named, by Miss Green, as the best Sophomore team ever to enter the High School, and proved themselves worthy of this title by beating both Junior and Senior teams; again in '38 they defeated the Sophomore and Senior teams. But that was not the end, for in '39 the goal was reached —winners for three consecutive years. Senior team A won over Senior team B and thus earned the right to play the Sophomores, whom they conquered.

Although they played without expecting a reward, they were overwhelmingly happy when Miss Green, their able coach, announced that they were to receive letters.

The following have awards to show for their efforts in sportsmanship:

Seniors:

Team A — Margaret Johnson, Mary Gallagher, Mary Geary, Susie Profenna, Ellen Boardman, Mary McCauley, Florence Young, Grace Sullivan.

Team B — Gertrude Hodges, Shirley Smart, Muriel Palmer, Rita Magee, Daisy Thompson, Marjorie Johnson, Agnes McDonough, Agnes Cannon, Barbara Driscoll, Lorraine Iseman, Joan Joyokonis.

Sophomores:

Wanda Mercer, Florence Snook, Theresa Goroffne, Eleanor English, Helen Locke, Lucille Martelli.

I hope we will always be as friendly as we are now. Love
